Day 5 -- Developing Social Skills

---

Dear (Parent),

There's a wonderful old song with the line, "strength for today, bright hope for tomorrow."

That's what this lesson is all about.

What's your greatest concern about your child's development in school... besides academics?

Most parents tell me it's about behavior issues, and how their child will socialize.

How he will "get along in school"?

With your child, learning social skills begins in the home. With my Guide, you will show your child how to behave the right way...in each and every social situation they'll face in kindergarten!

Strength for today, bright hope for tomorrow!
